VOL. LXIII. No. 14. REDWOOD CITY, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, JULY 1, 1922 ESTABLISHED 1859

CITY TRUSTEES HAVE STORMY SESSION; REFUSE PERMITS

City Should Not Accept New Subdivisions Without Proper Sewer Facilities in Future

Applications for temporary permits for the construction of cesspools in Jefferson Acres were turned down by the town trustees at Monday night's meeting, which was largely devoted to a hearing on the matter. Last by C. H. Holt of the Holt Realty Company, a delegation of home owners in the tract appeared before the board as the result of an order by Building Inspector Con Drathman forbidding the occupancy of residences until sewer connections have been completed.

On the ground that the board had denied permits of a similar character to E. W. Magruder and should stand by the sewer enforcement ruling, the trustees took action to have plans and specifications for the tract in question presented at next Monday night's meeting. Proceedings to start work on the sewer lines will require about two months, the board was told by City Attorney Mansfield.

Trustee Tuchsen spoke in behalf of granting temporary permits on the ground that the city had been at fault in accepting the new subdivision without proper sewer facilities. He was opposed by Trustees Ryan and Mabie. Chairman McNulty spoke for immediate action on the part of the board to relieve the situation.

Permission to set poles on Cleveland street was granted to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company and the new Seagrave fire engine was accepted by the board on recommendation of Fire Chief Ryan.

City Clerk Price was instructed to advertise for bids on sewer construction in Oak Knoll Manor, the bids to be opened July 17.

Two appointments to the board of trustees of the city free library were made, to take effect today. Henry W. Walker and Attorney Archer Kincaid are the new library trustees to serve with P. P. Chamberlain, Mrs. A. S. Kalenborn and Donald W. Williams.

BRIDE ARRESTED

Deputy Sheriff J. E. (Brick) McGovern has a quiet way of doing things. When he received word from San Jose last Wednesday to arrest Miss Eva Rose of San Jose when she appeared for a marriage license here, Brick stepped across the hall to the office of County Clerk Mrs. Elizabeth M. Nash and found Miss Rose standing beside her fiance, Donald Fairfield, who was busily making out an application for the marriage license.

He asked Miss Rose to step into the sheriff's office, which she did without disturbing her busy fiance. Then the fiance looked around. His bride was gone. A moment before she had been standing at his elbow. Now she had vanished utterly. Somebody pointed toward the sheriff's office. Donald dashed in, but Brick had firm possession of the bride and in the name of the law. Selah!

Officers arrived from San Jose. Miss Rose was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, said minor being Donald, and the warrant being sworn to by a relative of the young man.

It was an unhappy wedding party that departed for San Jose. Think of having to arrest a bride on the eve or even on the afternoon of her approaching nuptials. No wonder he did it quietly!

Donald declared he would have the consent of his father, that it was all a ghastly mistake and that the wedding would positively be celebrated as soon as he and Eva returned to San Jose.

Moral: There's many a Rose lost to a Fairfield.

C. OF C. MEETING

San Mateo county citizens had an opportunity to hear an enlightening discussion on the recent decision of the supreme court ordering the unmerging of the Southern Pacific and Central Pacific railroads at a meeting which was held in Redwood City Masonic Hall Friday night under the auspices of the Peninsula Bureau of Chambers of Commerce and Civic Associations.

Executive Secretary R. H. K. Smith had notified the members of the bureau that this was to be one of the most important meetings ever held on the peninsula, the decision being one of great importance to this particular section owing to the fact that the terminal of the Central Pacific lines if separated from the Southern Pacific would be at the end of the Dumbarton cutoff at Redwood City. Due to the great interest in the subject the meeting was an open one and every resident of the peninsula was invited to attend and hear the discussion which was carried on by representatives of the different roads who had been invited to be present, and by others who were thoroughly familiar with the operation of the lines.

BAR ASSOCIATION STARTS CAMPAIGN

Plans and preparations for launching a vigorous campaign against what is termed "the trust companies referendum" to appear on the ballot in November have been completed by local members of the California Bar Association working in conjunction with other branches of this statewide organization. This announcement was made yesterday by an attorney, a member of the campaign committee.

"All members of the bar in the state are united to protect the status of the Sample bill passed by the last legislature and which is designed to prevent unlicensed and incompetent persons from practicing law," he said.

"It is a well established fact that the trust companies are the principal offenders against the spirit of the Sample bill and therefor their action in attacking this through the coming referendum was in no wise a surprise to those following this issue. We know that a large fund has been subscribed by some of the trust companies of the state to annul the action of the legislature and governor in passing and signing this measure. We are reliably informed that the bankers' association has levied a contribution on every state bank to derive funds necessary to assure the success of their referendum.

"The trust companies have been the aggressive leaders in this issue from its inception and have made every possible effort before the legislature and governor to prevent the Sample bill becoming a law. Misrepresentations are now being made to the effect that the act will prevent real estate dealers, insurance brokers, country banks, notaries and other persons from preparing deeds, bills of sale, mortgages and similar instruments.

"Such is not the case and the only refutation needed to defend these charges is an examination of the act itself. It specifically provides that no one is prevented from doing any one of these things or from drawing wills or giving any kind of legal advice. The bill does prevent anyone, other than a regularly licensed attorney who has passed an examination and is subject to the control of the state and the courts, from holding himself out as competent and authorized to practice law. The need of legislation along this line is manifest since the public is entitled to the same protection in matters relating to legal advice and services as it is in real estate transactions, medicine, dentistry and other services of a professional nature where a state license to practice or conduct business is required.

"It is perfectly apparent why the trust companies are opposing the Sample bill. For some years they have been constantly increasing and diversifying the kinds of business in which they engage.

"Everybody who is familiar with the subject knows that trust companies in this state are broadening their activities in competition with the bond and insurance brokers, real estate brokers, public accountants and civil engineers.

"If the Sample bill becomes a law the trust companies know that they will no longer be able to prepare so-called 'free wills,' which in reality pay them sandsomely not merely in executors' and trustees' fees, but in the control which they thereby gain over vast holdings of decedents' estates."

George Bell of Elko, Nev., has been selected to take charge of the machine shop and automobile work at Sequoia. Mr. Bell comes particularly well recommended. He is a graduate of Purdue University and besides having had seven years of teaching experience has served as a machinist for several years. He is married and has one child.

George Gerrish, who has been in the Fresno high school for the past year, will take the place in the mathematics department made vacant by the resignation of Miss Ethel Barnabey. Mr. Gerrish is a graduate of the University of California and should make a strong addition to the faculty.

Miss Irene Bradley, who has had charge of the physical education for girls in the Chico high school, will assume a like position here. Miss Bradley will also have academic work.

These additions to the faculty have been made by the trustees of the institution on recommendation of the principal, A. C. Argo. Mr. Argo has been very careful in the selection of his assistants and should have a faculty that is second to none in the state.

CHARGED WITH ROBBERY

Louis Novak, baker of San Francisco, charged with having held up the Mountain House on the Halfmoon Bay road last month, entered a plea of not guilty in the superior court here on Monday. He will be tried next Monday, the court having appointed Attorney Albert Mansfield of this city as counsel to defend Novak. At his preliminary hearing before Justice S. J. Fisher, San Mateo, Novak claimed an alibi, which will be made the basis of his defense at the coming trial, it was reported.

TRUSTEE RESIGNS

The Union Trust Company of San Francisco has resigned as trustee of the will of the late Mrs. Josephine Phelps of San Carlos, according to papers filed in the office of County Clerk Mrs. Elizabeth M. Nash.

Withdrawal of the company from the administration of the estate, which has been the subject of numerous court hearings here, was made on the ground that the will is "unfortunately ill suited" to the estate left by Mrs. Phelps.

Stipulations of the will call for the creation of a trust fund of $240,000 from which certain annuities were to be paid. It has been contended that the trustees were unabe to create the trust fund from the property, consisting principally of lands about San Carlos.

The principal heirs named in the will are Mrs. Virginia A. Lord, Mrs. Eugenia H. Schroeder and the late Mrs. Amanda Swasey, sisters Edward T. and Alfred A. McLean, brothers, and W. F. Chipman, a nephew of Mrs. Phelps Chipman was also named as joint trustee with the trust company.

Officials of the company declared that the will was drawn upon the theory that the net income of the estate would be ample to provide annuities, whereas it had been found that there is no net income from the estate. Action was brought here to enable the trustees to create the fund by sale of lands of the estate, but was dismissed without prejudice by Superior Judge Buck.

It was stated that a similar action would be brought in San Francisco and an effort made to retain the trust company in the capacity of trustee and obtain the resignation of Chipman. Certain heirs of the estate are said to be greatly in need of the funds intended for them under terms of the will.

ASKS DIVORCE

Mrs. Elizabeth D. Parker filed suit in the superior court here on Tuesday asking divorce from William M. Parker on the grounds of desertion and cruelty. The complaint alleges that the wife was forced to live in an "isolated place" from May, 1917, until July, 1919, being denied the society of visitors. It is also alleged that her life was threatened by Parker in June of 1919.

Mrs. Parker asks custody of two minor children—Jane, 12 years old, and William, a boy of 9 years. The couple were married in San Mateo county in April 1904, according to the complaint.

UNMERGING THE RAILROADS

The supreme court of the United States has decided that the Central Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads must be divorced. For a good many years the Southern Pacific has leased the Central Pacific properties and has operated its trains over those lines. A Central Pacific terminal is in Redwood City. We have never known and have never cared whether we were traveling C. P. or S. P. We usually paid for good service and we got it. Some years ago the state railroad commission refused to issue an unmerging order. The commission felt that injury would result should the S. P. give up its control of the C. P. properties. If the S. P. does give it up, what will happen? As we see it the Union Pacific will assume control. Now we wonder why it wouldn't be just as well for the S. P. to continue in control as to turn over control to another railroad. Perhaps the supreme court can enlighten us.

SOME IMPRESSIONS

The San Francisco Chronicle wants all of Northern California to stand together and boost for every place in Northern California. We believe that it is a wonderful idea. We second the motion. Why shouldn't we boost We have San Francisco, Oakland, Sacramento and the peninsula and Santa Clara valley. We have big trees and wonderful waterfalls. We have sparkling lakes and snowclad mountains. We have fruits and flowers. We have roads and rivers. Why shouldn't we boost for Northern California?

San Mateo county is certainly going ahead. A friend from Burlingame informs us that there are 150 new houses under construction in that city as well as several business buildings. We are glad to see our nighbors prosper, as any growth down the peninsula means added business for the county seat. Now is the time the thoughtful investor should secure his lot in Redwood City. It will cost double in a few years.

Sunday was one of the hottest days we have enjoyed this year. While down town we saw boys hanging around the only places of amusement, the poolrooms. We spent a little while at the ball game, but it was too hot there for enjoyment. A friend invited us to ride to Palo Alto. In the college city we visited the municipal swimming pool. There in the shade of the big oak trees we saw the boys and girls enjoying the swimming. The pool was crowded and everybody was having a fine time. Redwood City certainly should have a swimming pool.

THE SENATORSHIP

A few disgruntled and disappointed politicians have persuaded C. C. Moore to become a candidate for the senatorship against Hiram Johnson. Mr. Moore is a splendid citizen, a good man, but he is in the hands of designing persons who are going to lead him to the slaughter—and oh! what a slaughter it will be! Moore will be defeated by fully 200,000 votes and this is a conservative estimate. There are some who say it will be more. Those behind the Moore cause are a lot of sorehead politicians, a number of whom failed to secure for themselves federal plums when the Republican party assumed power last year. They are poor losers and now want revenge. It took a long time for them to find a candidate who would be willing to make the sacrifice, but finally they succeeded in getting a victim.

Senator Hiram W. Johnson is stronger with the people of California today than at any time during his public career. The big vote he will receive at the primary election will prove this statement. The citizens of the state want him in the senate, for they know he truly represents California at Washington. They know he will protect their interests. They admire his fearlessness, they know he has the courage of his convictions and will perform his duties without fear or favor.

Mr. Johnson's friends are organizing all over the state in his behalf. It is really a case of how much the majority will be. His friends will see to it that it will be exceedingly large.

AS TO THE GOVERNOR

Governor W. D. Stephens will be re-elected by a tremendous vote at the primary election. All over the state voters are rallying to his support with enthusiasm. They recognize his honesty, ability and fearlessness in the discharge of his duties and are going to elect him for another term. Governor Stephens is a splendid campaigner, tireless in his work of meeting the people in every portion of the state and energetic in presenting the issues to the voter.

The voters of San Mateo county are certain to give him an almost unanimous vote. They do not forget the great campaign he made for Senator Shortridge at the last election, when his support meant so much to Mr. Shortridge. A number of prominent public men feared to come out in the open in their support of the senator. Not so with the governor. He stumped the state from one end to the other, everywhere gaining votes for the Republican standard bearer for the senatorship. It was due to his efforts that Mr. Shortridge received such an overwhelming vote in the southern part of the state. The voters of San Mateo county are going to remember this on August 29.

JOHNSON BLOCKS FREE TRADE MOVE

A renewed onslaught by powerful Eastern influences against the protective tariff rates on almonds and walnuts which mean so much to California growers was repulsed early this week by Senator Hiram W. Johnson, according to advices from Washington. Johnson succeeded in blocking a move launched in the Senate Finance Committee to have rates on walnuts and almonds as provided in the bill reported to the Senate reduced. Defeated in their long fight to prevent adequate protection for California walnuts and almonds, Eastern importers of those products on last Saturday and again yesterday made a new drive against Senator Johnson by surprise. In this they failed.

"But the pressure against the rates is continuous and powerful," is the warning which came to the California Walnut Growers and the California Almond Growers' Exchange, both of which organizations will redouble their efforts in backing Senator Johnson in his fight for the rates.

The importers, manufactures and bankers who are interested in keeping a low rate on walnuts and almonds will make a hard battle on the floor of the Senate to beat the Johnson rates. According to word from Washington the determined and unexpected attempt to force the Senate Finance Committee to rescind its action indicates that the opposition to a protective tariff for California nuts are not as hopeful of victory on the floor of the Senate as they were.

It was only after a stubborn fight that Senator Johnson succeeded in having the Finance Committee incorporate in its bill a 5-15c rate on almonds and tariff rates of 4c on unshelled and 12c on shelled walnuts instead of the rates of 3c on unshelled and 9c on shelled walnuts as demanded by the interests which seek to knock the bottom out of the almond and walnut industry of this State.

According to the California Walnut Growers, the new tariff duties proposed by Senator Johnson and for which he is making one of the big battles if his public career, will be worth $500,000 to walnut growers of this State. Cheap foreign competition menaces both the almond and walnut industry of California and the counter-attack against the Johnson rates spurred the two big organizations representing the almond and walnut growers to renewed activity

RILEY FOR CONTROLLER

State Controller Ray L. Riley has formally announced his candidacy to succeed himself and the circulation of his petition to obtain the Republican nomination is now under way. Controller Riley's petition in this community is in the hands of H. C. Tuchsen and H. W. Schaberg of Redwood City.

Ray L. Riley was appointed to the office of state controller by Governor Stephens in 1921 when John S. Chambers resigned to take charge of the Sacramento branch of the Bank of Italy. Riley up to that time had been state real estate commissioner and had evidenced an unusual executive ability in organizing that new department, one of the largest in the state government. He is running for state controller on his record, promising the voters a continuation of the efficiency which has made that office notable.

The office of state controller is one of the most important. The controller audits and disburses approximately $67,000,000 a year, is member of the budget board and ex-officio member of the state board of equalization. Additional duties devolve upon him as head of the delinquent land tax department and as the one to whom is entrusted the gathering of financial statistics of the various cities and counties. In addition the controller directly superintends the collection of the state inheritance taxes. The sum received annually by the state from this source amounts to about $4,000,000 and is steadily increasing. This is one of the most substantial sources of state revenue and Controller Riley points with pride to the extremely low cost of collecting these taxes.

REGISTRATION IS BEHIND LAST ELECTION YEAR

Notwithstanding the fact that this is an important election year and practically all of the county officers will be up for re-election, the registration in San Mateo county is way behind the registration of 1920, the last election year. The total registration for the general election in San Mateo county two years ago, when the last registration was compiled was 14,326.

Up to the time registration for the municipal elections closed on March 11, last, the registration was exceptionally heavy, but since the registration reopened on April 10 for the primary of August 29 very few have taken the trouble to get their names on the register.

Unless a grand rush is made between now and July 29, when registration closes, the registration for this year will fall below that of 1920, according to Mrs. Nash, county clerk. However, during next month deputies will be stationed in different sections of the county with registration books and it is probable that as the election draws nearer the residents will see that their names are entered on the register.

Registration books will be closed from July 29 until after the primary in August and will then open for the general election, remaining open until October 7, when the great register for the year will be compiled.

Lack of interest in registration is thought to be due to the fact that there will be practically no contests in county offices. Outside of the sheriff's fight, the incumbents will be without opposition, from present indications, so far as the court house is concerned.

Monday was the first day for the circulation of petitions, in accordance with the direct primary law, and all petitions must be filed with the county clerk not later than July 20. In the case of county officers it is necessary to secure the signatures of not less than 54 qualified electors to the petitions, and not more than 174. In the township offices the number of signatures required is:

	Min.	Max.
First township	18	60
Second township	21	61
Third township	13	40
Fourth township	3	10
Fifth township	2	5

The principal contest in the county will be the fight for assemblyman from the 42d district. Up to date there are three candidates in the field—the incumbent, Frank L. Eksward, Burlingame Chester A. Jones, Daly City; Jerome Hallinan, San Mateo.

He has served successively as a director and vice president of the Financial Advertisers' Association and as treasurer of the San Francisco Advertising Club.

The success of the various bank advertisements conceived by Douglas has received nation wide attention and at the last four association conventions his displays have been consistent prize winners.

Before returning to San Francisco Douglas will visit a number of eastern cities as the guest of the bankers.

Woodside

Alexander Ross has nearly completed his course in military academy and he plans to follow in the footsteps of his grandfather and father and hopes like them to be an honor to the medical profession.

Mrs. McQueen, mother of Mrs. Ruby Raymond of Woodside, met with a painful accident last Saturday. In getting out of Mrs. Raymond's automobile, in which she had been riding, she missed her footing and fell on the road, striking her head with such force as to render her for a time unconscious. She was taken home and put under the care of a nurse where she is slowly recovering, although still suffering acutely from bruises and contusions.

C. J. Faso has sold his home place on the Canyana road. This place was built up entirely by Mr. Faso's own labor and he was loath to part with it, but his health has not been good of late and the place was too large for him to care for it himself, so when a good price was offered him for the property he felt that it was best to put aside sentimental considerations and accept the offer.

The children slowly recovered, but his wife, who had been Marguerite Willard of Redwood City, worn with her long care for the children, succumbed. As soon as the children were able to travel Mr. Conolley returned to California, which he says he has no intention of leaving again. He was looking over some properties in his valley a few days ago and it is hoped that he will again become a resident in this neighborhood.

Rev. Benjamin St. John preached to his congregation from St. Paul's letter to the Corinthians concerning the value, or lack of value, of what St. Paul describes as "speaking with tongues," which, according to Mr. St. John, means the ecstatic, often incoherent and sometimes incomprehensible utterances of those under the stress of emotional and religious excitement.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR INHERITANCE APPRAISERS

Ray L. Riley, state controller, today forwarded instructions to H. C. Tuchsen and H. W. Schaberg, inheritance tax appraisers of this county, concerning the manner of appraisements by them of lands for soldier applicants under the provisions of the veterans' welfare act.

Mr. Riley has laid special stress on the seriousness of an over appraisement which would place an unjust burden on the applicant, as the soldiers must pay for the land the appraised value determined by the inheritance tax appraiser and the veterans' welfare board.

In the blank form of report prepaired for the appraisers to complete and sign, which must be by them verified under oath, every possible opportunity to defraud the veterans has been forestalled.

Although the painstaking work of appraising land for the soldier will take a great deal of time, which expenses and per diem must be paid by the veterans, as is provided under the act, Mr. Riley's office and the inheritance tax appraisers of this state, at their annual convention last August, unanimously resolved to perform that service to the veterans free of charge.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE FOR THE ASSEMBLY

Now comes Jerome Hallinan of San Mateo and throws his hat into the ring for the assembly. He is an ex-service man and is capable of holding the position of assemblyman. He will get a big vote as all the service men are enthusiastic over his candidacy. The young man has spent the greater portion of his life in San Mateo, and residences there are boosting him for the place. His opponents are the present incumbent, Eksward, and a man by the name of Jones. This will be a great fight, but the wise ones are betting on Hallinan as a winner.

POISONOUS WEED PESTS MENACE TO FARM STOCK

County Horticultural Commissioner J. B. Hickman of Monterey gives us the following timely information on poisonous weeds:

"A cool backward spring brings haying in our hilly sections at the time when the eaglebrake and the blue and white lupines are in blossom or in seed. The lupine is overabundant this season and in many fields will be cut with the hay. Seeds of the now maturing plant cured in the hay are extremely poisonous to all kinds of stock. Be watchful and see to it that patches of this weed are cut around or left unshocked if cut in your fields.

"The eaglebrake is abundant in the hilly section. Its spores, which take the place of seed, are shed in the hay while curing if the plant is mature."

A Progressive Movement by Kings County and the City of Fresno

It is gratifying to the division of animal industry, department of agriculture, to be able to announce that the co-operative plan of state and municipal inspection is being accorded most favorable consideration in various parts of the state where the method has been applied.

Just recently the municipal authorities of the city of Fresno requested Dr. G. W. Rosenberger, the state supervisor of meat inspection, to discuss the plan with them which resulted in the passing of an ordinance making it possible for the state officials to join with the health authorities of that city in carrying on co-operative meat inspection.

At about the same time the supervisors of Kings county through the passage of a suitable ordinance made it possible for the California department of agriculture to extend the benefits of the state meat inspection act to the entire county. This procedure was given favorable consideration by the state officials and provisions have been made to afford that county a systematic inspection in all its slaughtering establishments.

The interest manifested in this important branch of inspection prompts the California department of agriculture to extend congratulations to the citizens of Fresno and Kings counties for promptly taking advantage of progressive legislation which will afford them adequate proection against the consumption of unwholesome meats.
